

ResultsEngine®

ResultsEngine is the leading learning transfer management system that works with your existing programs to increase their return by enhancing learning transfer and application on the job.

Easy to implement and customize, ResultsEngine has been used to support transfer in thousands of learning and development programs around the globe.

The system reminds participants of their objectives, engages their managers and mentors, continues a community of learners, and provides just-in-time content to support goal achievement.

ResultsEngine's Learning Transfer Metrics Dashboard™ enables program leaders—for the first time ever—the ability to monitor and manage the critical post-course learning transfer process.

Fort Hill has created a tool that helps companies cross the learning-doing gap.
